Four commit suicide in separate incidents

Mysuru, Nov. 9 (OSR)- Four persons committed suicide in separate incidents in Mysuru since the last 24 hours. While two incidents were reported from the heart of the city, two were reported from Hunsur near Periyapatna. Mounting loans, health reasons and domestic disputes are said to be the reasons for suicides.

In the first case, a Mysuru-based 43-year-old Chartered Accountant P. Prashanth hung himself from a ceiling fan at his house at Siddalingeshwara Layout in Bogadi yesterday. The Police said that Prashanth had borrowed huge loans from banks to construct a house in Ananda Nagar in city.

He had also lost money in share market which pushed him to take the extreme step. The Police also added that Prashanth had health problems that could have driven him to take the extreme step.

Yesterday, Prashanth, after dropping his wife and daughter to a tailoring institute and school, returned home and ended his life. The incident came to light when Prashanth's wife returned home after finishing her classes.

Three of family jump to death?

Police and firemen using boats to fish out bodies from Parashunayakana Lake on Uttanahalli Road this morning.

Mysuru, Nov. 9 (OSR)- Adding to the list of suicides that were reported in the last 24 hours, Police have fished out a body from a lake this morning amidst growing suspicion that three of a family had committed suicide by jumping into a lake on Uttanahalli Road. However, the Police are yet to confirm about the other family members.

The body that was fished out from Parashunayakana Lake located on Uttanahalli Road at the foot of Chamundi Hill belonged to one Ganesh (25). He is said to be an employee of APMC Yard and a resident of Kailaspuram.

The Police Control Room received a call this morning from an unidentified person who said that a man and a woman along with a child had jumped into the Parashunayakana Lake, leaving behind their two-wheeler. Soon, the message was passed on to Mysuru South Police. A team from South Police rushed to the spot but realised that the case had to be investigated by Krishnaraja Police as it fell under their jurisdiction.

Soon, K.R. Police Inspector and staff rushed to the spot and launched an operation to fish out the bodies. But till around 1 pm, they could only fish out Ganesh's body. They, however, did not find any two-wheeler at the spot as reported by the control room caller. Not taking any chances, the Police are searching the lake with the help of boats. Further details are awaited.

Untying the Gordian Knots

Likening any complex or unsolvable problem used to be expressed metaphorically as the Gordian Knot by writers in English during the days gone by. The legend on dismantling an 'impossible' knot dates back to the times of Alexander the Great (356-323 BC). The phrase Cutting the Gordian Knot has come to assume the proverb form to denote that an intractable problem can be solved only by bold action. In this context, one is prompted to get fascinated by pondering over the problems being faced by the nation's diaspora even as old ones remain unsolved and new ones are cropping up day after day. The set of problems beyond human capability to prevent their happening and those created by the land's people themselves are different kettles of fish. The boundless ingenuity of citizens of the country to pose problems burdening the government doesn't see them or the nation in good light.

Every successive government glorifying the many measures taken during its years at the helm as unquestionably pro-people and the respective opposition berating the government with no holds barred is the name of the game. Two such measures namely, demonetisation (done on Nov. 8, 2016) and introduction of the GST (introduced as a unified tax system on July 1, 2017) are right now engaging the incumbent government at the Centre and Opposition both in the nation's Parliament and many States, including Karnataka.

Interestingly, two phenomenons enveloping the country's public space have emerged as Gordian Knots (note the plural form of the noun as different from its place in the legend of several centuries vintage). It may well be superfluous to remind ourselves that a) Pollution (in its multiple avatars) and b) Corruption (a term that has ceased to disturb anybody's mental poise, given its demonic proportions). Needless to portray these as the nation's worst curses in all centuries past of the country's long history. Agencies such as the New Delhi-based Centre for Science and Environment are keeping track of the extent and steadily rising pace of pollution of air, water and soil, publishing figures relating to these without leading to even marginal change in the public ethos about pollution. Talking about corruption, alongside pollution, with none other than the nation's people, barring exceptions, as sole authors.

Quoting Napoleon's famous line "The word impossible is only in the dictionary of fools," it is unacceptable that untying the aforementioned Gordian Knots is impossible. To say that bold action is the only way to expedite the task is saying the obvious. To expect any regime in the country's government to resort to bold action amounts to asking for the moon.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Political confidence is not business confidence: If you have been foolish enough to choose economics as your preferred option for a BA degree, one of the first things you are taught is that it's demand that makes the world go around. The next thing you are taught is that if price for something goes up, generally demand for that thing goes down. The opposite is also true, generally. What you are not taught in the first year, however, is that the level of money supply also has a bearing on total demand in the economy. It can push the entire demand curve up or down, depending on whether it increases or decreases. Economics calls this the difference between shifts along the demand curve — that is, up and down — and shift of the demand curve. Firms focus on the first; governments focus on the second. *— T. C. Jello-like Pumpkin Pie

Chicago: People have been losing their minds over the pumpkin pie created by Simon Davies, the chef at Chicago's Alinea restaurant, and for good reason. It looks like jell-o on a pie crust, but he insists that it's an actual pumpkin pie, just not the kind we're all used to.

Davies posted the first photo of his crystal-clear pumpkin pie in late Sept. The general reaction can be described as a mix of surprise, confusion and anger, as people try to wrap their hands around this pumpkin pie that sort of looks like the traditional Thanksgiving dessert, but is totally different, at the same time. Davies explains that its a "distillation of pumpkin, cinnamon, ginger, and clove" created with a rotary evaporator machine, or 'rotovap', an advanced device that can make a liquid distillate out of whatever ingredients you put in it. So unlike a pumpkin-flavored jell-o, this stuff is supposed to taste just like pumpkin pie filling, because that's what it is, essentially.

Church of Drinking

Johannesburg: "Praise the Lord and pass the libation" is the motto of an unorthodox church located near Johannesburg, South Africa. Gabola Church of International Ministries takes its name from the Tswana word for 'drinking,' and it both allows and encourages members of the congregation to drink during service.

The African continent is home to lots of unconventional churches and colourful preachers who employ all kinds of outlandish rituals to attract parishioners. At Gabola, baptisms are performed using the preferred alcoholic drink of parishioners. Alcohol is also consumed during sermons, with bottles of beer, whisky and wine anointed by the church's founder and resident bishop, Tsietsi Makiti. As crazy a combination as alcohol and God worship may seem, Makiti has a very good reason for relying on it to attract congregates. He claims that the church's mission is to welcome drinkers who had been rejected by traditional churches, providing a safe space to drink and also worship God. Bishop Tsietsi Makiti founded his church just two months ago, but it already has over 500 members and has baptized over 2000 people, using the booze of their choice.

VOICE OF THE READER

The historic Brandenburg Gate

Sir,

The iconic Brandenburg Gate in Berlin featured in the write-up "Gone Away: To Germany and Austria- 1" under KBG's "Abracadabra" (SOM dated Oct.4) has historical significance too, as it was the only point of entry and exit between East Germany and West Germany after the erection of the Berlin Wall by the Russian troops, similar to our Wagah Border in Attari between India and Pakistan after partition near Amritsar.

When Soviet troops occupied the German capital Berlin, after the Second World War and the fall of Hitler, constructed the Berlin Wall and closed the Brandenburg Gate so as to prevent people from crossing over to the other side. Anyone caught climbing over the Berlin Wall to cross over to the other side was shot. Rest is history.

Install traffic signal lights at this chaotic junction

Sir,

Day by day, it is becoming a nightmare to drive through the junction between Gokulam Road and Hunsur Road. Unlimited chaos prevail at this junction during peak hours and also during movie hours at the nearby mall.

Though a home guard is posted at this junction, she is of no help in monitoring the traffic. Generally the home guard will be seen busy chatting either with the auto drivers or with the public in the food kiosks in the vicinity. It is high time the authorities seriously consider to install traffic signal lights at this junction and help the motorists to mitigate their woes.

Male nurse gets 25 years jail for molesting US student in 2015

Mysuru, Nov.9- Two years after a 26-year-old US national was sexually assaulted by a male nurse at a prominent hospital in the city, a city Court yesterday sentenced him to 25 years rigorous imprisonment.

This is probably the harshest punishment given by a court in Mysuru for an offence of rape. The minimum punishment under section 376 (2)(d) of IPC for the offence is 10 years but the Court, considering the gravity of the offence and its widespread consequences at the international level, sentenced the accused to 25 years in jail and also imposed a fine of Rs. 15,000.

The Seventh Additional District and Sessions Court Judge awarded the punishment to 27-year-old Sumith and the quantum of punishment was announced yesterday after he (Sumith) was pronounced guilty in the case on Nov. 7.

According to Public Prosecutor Mahanthappa, the student, a 21-year-old US national, was doing her research on tribals in Rajasthan and Delhi, before coming to Mysuru. An organisation working with tribals in H.D. Kote was supporting her for studies. She was a student of Duke University in the US.

On Nov. 6, 2015, she was supposed to travel to B.R. Hills, but she fell ill. As soon as she arrived in Mysuru, she fell sick with stomach pain and symptoms of diarrhoea and vomiting. She was treated at a clinic, assisted by her friend, in Mysuru for a day. When her health didn't improve she was shifted to Columbia Asia hospital on the evening of Nov.6.

A lady doctor, assisted by a male nurse Sumith, treated her at the emergency before shifting her to the Intensive Care Unit (ICU). Sumith, however, on the pretext of attending to her, allegedly disrobed her, before outraging her modesty. Sumith is a native of Malavalli taluk in Mandya district. The victim was admitted in a private ward and two women including one friend from the US and local resident were attending her.

Mahanthappa said that at around 8 pm on Nov. 6, 2015, Sumith came to the ward on the pretext of changing IV fluids. He sent both of her attendants out of room before molesting her on the hospital bed. The student was shocked and yelled for help. Immediately, Sumith left the room. Strangely, following day, he had sent her a friend request on Facebook. Subsequently the victim lodged a complaint with hospital authorities.

The hospital management sacked Sumith from his job after receiving an apology letter from him. A Police complaint was lodged after 22 days of the incident at N.R. Police Station as the victim had to get permission from her University to lodge a Police complaint. The victim later returned to the US and did not come back. Sumith was taken into custody later.

Following the complaint, Inspector H.S. Gajendra Prasad (now Dy.SP, Anti Corruption Bureau), the Investigating Officer in the case, conducted the investigation and submitted a chargesheet to the court.

Mahanthappa said the victim's evidence was recorded on Skype twice in mid 2017 after she expressed her difficulty in travelling to India to give evidence. She gave evidence for three-and-a-half-hours — first day for two hours and second day for one-and-a-half hours.

She identified the accused and explained in details what happened to her on the day. The evidence was recorded in noon hours Indian time but then in her place in the US the time was 3 am to 5 am, Mahanthappa said.

Plastic godowns raided; Five tonnes of banned plastic materials seized

MCC Commissioner G. Jagadeesha displaying the seized plastic covers.

Mysuru, Nov. 9 (RKB&KS)- A team of officials, led by Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner G. Jagadeesha, which conducted raids on plastic godowns in city yesterday, have seized five tonnes of banned plastic materials from the godowns.

During the raid in Santhepet here, the MCC team seized plastic plates, tumblers and covers from the godown. The MCC team, following information about banned plastic materials being stocked in three more shops and godowns, went to Mahadeva Enterprises and its godown in Santhepet only to find them closed following which they were sealed. The raids would continue today.

Meanwhile, MCC Commissioner said that raids on shops selling the banned plastic materials and gowdowns stocking them would be intensified in the coming days.

MCC Environmental Engineer Mythri and MCC's Abhaya team took part in the raids.

House burglars arrested

Accused had decamped with gold ornaments worth lakhs of rupees

Mysuru, Nov.9 (SPN&KS)- Udayagiri Police have arrested two persons on charges of breaking into a locked house in city and decamping with gold ornaments worth lakhs of rupees. The arrested persons have been identified as 22-year-old Murali of B.M. Sri Nagar and a 16-year-old boy.

The duo had stolen gold ornaments weighing about 50 grams from the house of one Sadashiva in Ganesh Nagar and had gone absconding. The Police traced them in Pandavapura and arrested them besides subjecting them to interrogation. The Police said that the duo had cases of burglaries against them in various Police Stations and investigations were going on.

Stray dogs bite 6-year-old at K.G. Koppal

Mysuru, Nov.9 (SPN&BCT)- A six-year-old-boy was mauled by stray dogs at K.G. Koppal, in city on Monday evening. The victim has been identified as Gaurav Skanda, studying at St Joseph's School. The boy had been to his uncle's house at K.G. Koppal as it was a closed holiday to his school on account of Kanakadasa Jayanti when the incident occurred.

Gaurav Skanda recuperating after being attacked by stray dogs.

According to the boy's father L. Nagesh, his son was standing near the gate of the house along with other boys when a pack of dogs attacked him. He was rushed to a nearby private hospital at Kuvempunagar and was later treated at the Epidemic Diseases Hospital in Metagalli. He said that his son's condition was stable and he has been given medication to prevent infection.

Nagesh said stray dog menace was posing a threat to the people at various localities including K.G. Koppal, Bannimantap, Mandi Mohalla and residential pockets of Vijayanagar. There have been many incidents of dogs attacking children and senior citizens and despite many complaints the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has failed to take necessary measures in this regard.

MCC Health Officer Dr. H. Ramachandra, however, said that they have not received any complaint in this regard. "Dogs are being sterilised regularly. As the lifespan of dogs is around 10 years, the menace will gradually reduce," he said.

When it was brought to his notice that the leftovers from meat stalls and other roadside eateries attract the dogs, the Health Officer replied that MCC has been conducting drives to educate people to keep the surroundings clean.

DCPs N. Vishnuvardhana, Dr. Vikram V. Amathe and B.V. Kittur were among those who participated in the Flag March.

Discrepancies in voter-list: Genuine voters file Police complaints

Voters, under the leadership of former Minister S.A. Ramdas, are seen filing Police complaints against discrepancies in the voters list.

Mysuru, Nov.9 (PM&BCT)- A series of Police complaints have been filed at various Police Stations in city by genuine voters whose names have been either deleted from the voters' list or have been declared dead in the records though they are alive.

The complaints have been filed by voters of Krishnaraja Constituency at K.R. Police Station, Vidyaranyapuram Police Station and Kuvempunagar Police Station.

The plaints name Revenue Officers, Election Tahsildar and other officials, who were involved in preparing the voters' list. Even Krishnaraja MLA M.K. Somashekar's name figures in the complaint.

Over eight complaints have been filed and the complainants, under the leadership of former Minister S.A. Ramdas, have urged the Police to take action against those officials and elected representatives. They alleged that their names have been intentionally left out of the voters list to benefit a particular political party.

It may be recalled here that on Nov.4, Ramdas had sought a Judicial probe into what he described as 'voters list capturing or voters list rigging.'

He alleged that the State Government was misusing its powers to get officials to delete the names of voters from the voters list by citing that they are either dead or have relocated so as to facilitate the victory of the Congress in the ensuing 2018 Assembly election.

Ramdas alleged the hand of K.R. MLA M.K. Somashekar of the Congress in the irregularities in K.R. Constituency list. He had alleged that 4,794 voters in K.R., 5,642 voters in Chamaraja, 3,416 voters in N.R. and 11,212 voters in Chamundeshwari constituency were deleted from the voters list. He had said that he will initiate a legal battle against the rigging from Nov. 7.

Housing Societies stage protest against MUDA proposal

Mysuru, Nov.9 (SP&PM)- Strongly opposing the MUDA's proposal to develop layouts on 50:50 ratio, members of Housing Co-operative Societies Action Committee staged a demonstration in front of MUDA office on JLB Road here yesterday.

The MUDA on Feb.11, 2010 had placed a proposal before the Housing Co-operative Societies to develop layouts and distribute sites on 50:50 ratio basis. But the Societies rejected the proposal saying it was unfair. But the MUDA is hell-bent on sticking to its proposal, they alleged.

The Action Committee Convenor D.T. Prakash, who addressed the protesters, said that the Societies have developed several layouts and have even distributed sites at affordable rates to some of the members. But the MUDA's unscientific stance has posed a big hurdle in the distribution of sties to the remaining members, he alleged.

Stating that several representations to the MUDA Chairman and Commissioner have fallen on deaf ears, Prakash expressed concern that the Societies will have to face heavy losses if the MUDA firmly sticks to its proposal.

Housing Co-operative Societies Federation President J. Puttaswamy and office-bearers took part in the demonstration.

Lopamudra's Consent

In the Rig Veda, most hymns are by male sages. But there are a few by women, the rishikas, some independent and others, wives of sages. Lopamudra is the wife of Agastya and both compose hymns. In her hymn, she expresses her sexual longing and asks him to stop his rituals and focus on her. She warns him of old age and reminds him of the value of progeny. He resists at first. But then submits. Commentators equate Lopamudra with Rati, Goddess of Pleasure.

This hymn is one of the earliest references to the ubiquitous tension between the hermit and the householder found in Hindu tradition. Which is greater? To stay celibate or to engage in sexual intimacy? The hermit shuns the woman. The household is established by the woman. The hermit prefers the masculine world. The householder embraces the feminine world. The tension is as much about worldliness as it is about gender tensions. In later times, the hermit's way would be seen as more pure, disciplined and Vedic, as against the dangerous Tantrik path, where the body is adored, and the woman seen as power (shakti), not delusion (maya).

We see this tension not just in Hinduism but also in Buddhism. For, while Lopamudra enchants Agastya, Buddhism begins with Gautama of the Sakya clan abandoning Yashodhara. In Hinduism, traditionally, if one sees the temple architecture, one realises that the woman wins; the Gods get married and enjoy worldly life. In Buddhism, Buddha is alone and serene, with a few women attendants who hold him in awe. Only in Tantrik Buddhism do women appear as Goddesses such as Tara, who is sexually aggressive and demanding.

In the Mahabharata, composed over a thousand years after the Rig Veda, Lopamudra's story is elaborated. Here, she is a Princess who refuses to give Agastya children until he gives her a house, jewellery and cosmetics and comes to her as a man worthy of her. So, Agastya goes on many adventures to gather wealth for his wife. Here, it is the duty of a man to satisfy all desires of a woman, for she will bear and raise his children. Without her, he cannot have children and so cannot repay debt to his ancestors. To produce happy children, he needs to ensure that she is happy.

The same epic informs us how Vyasa wants to make himself presentable to Ambika and Ambalika before going to their bedchambers but Satyavati insists he go even though he looks ugly, after years of austerities. As a result of this impatient act, Ambika bears a blind son and Ambalika an impotent one. Thus ancient texts give great value to a woman's consent, satisfaction and pleasure in matters sexual.

Traditionally, Agastya is the sage who took Vedic culture to the South. According to a Tamil legend, composed about 1,000 years ago, 2,000 years after the Rig Veda, Agastya, after settling in the South, asked his student Tolkappiyan to go North and bring Lopamudra to the South. But when they came, he noticed they walked too close to each other and he accused his student of inappropriate conduct with his young wife. An angry Tolkappiyan left his teacher and went on to write an independent work on Tamil grammar known as Tolkappiyam. Here, Agastya, who once shunned marriage, is portrayed as a jealous, possessive and suspicious husband, reminding us of changing times, and changing emotions, and changing attitudes towards women and wives.

Construction of Guard Room under progress near View Point.

Mysuru, Nov. 9 (RK&KS) - Following good response from tourists and devotees to enjoy the city's panoramic view through a high-definition binocular installed at the View Point at the junction of the roads leading to the iconic Nandi statue and the Temple atop Chamundi Hill, another high-definition binocular has been installed at the same View Point to ease the rush.

The second binocular was installed at the same spot following suggestions by some visitors to Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep to avoid rush and also to construct a guard room for the staff manning the View Point.

DC Randeep, speaking to SOM said that the second binocular was installed about two days ago and added that the binocular is functional from today (Nov. 9). Seeing the response, another binocular would be installed at the second View Point soon, he said.

The District Administration has constructed special protruding platforms at the two View Points on way to the Hill. While one View Point has been set up at the junction between Nandi Statue Road and the Chamundi Hill Road, the other View Point has been developed near the WELCOME sign on the same stretch.

Rupees twenty is being charged for viewing the city through the binocular where a coin is given to the viewer once he pays the money. Once the coin is inserted, the binocular screen opens from where the viewer can see the city for two minutes. After the prescribed time, the screen closes.

The demand is especially for night viewing of the city's stunning heritage structures.

Thoughts on Patriotism

Nationalism and Jingoism - 2

Inspired by Ramachandra Guha and Art Buchwald

The democracy in US is of Unitary form, with the President of the country directly elected. But in India, we have a democracy which is Federal in nature though Unitary in character. Flags and songs are symbols of sovereignty and sentiment. What is good for America may be bad for India.

I am reminded of Yeat's famous poem The Second Coming wherein he says: "Things fall apart; the Centre cannot hold; Mere anarchy is loosed upon world". Here, we may as well replace the word world with India. Political party flags are okay but certainly not State flags. It will not augur well for the Centre and for the integrity of our country.

Anyway, it is significant to note that Ramachandra Guha was speaking at a kind of function which has become fashionable and a farce, called Bangalore Literature Festival. Were there literary persons? It was more of an anti-Modi crowd. The subject: "Jingoism Vs Patriotism". Jingoism means extreme or aggressive form of patriotism. He said "Catalans have declared independence since Spain did not let them speak their language among many other concerns." But who is going to remind the good old saying that "where wealth accumulates men decay". Catalans demand independence because they are economically independent and prosperous. Like our Punjab once. Catalan is rich, most of the major industries are located there and also major contributor to Spain's agricultural produce. So the pride. So the demand for independence.

In poverty all the members of a family hang together. But let one son or daughter become rich. He or she wants to separate. Spain pumped all its resources to Catalan because of its geographical advantages. Now it bites the finger that fed it.

Everyone on earth will speak the language he wants, a language that benefits him. One should cut his tongue to stop him. I heard Kamal Hassan blabbering about Tamil language to be politically correct now that he wants to get into politics. Why not he openly propose a 3-language formula — State language, English, Hindi. With a flag and a language of its own to the exclusion of Hindi and English Indian Federal States may politically go overdrive, like it happened with Tamil Nadu and Punjab in the past even without a flag or a single language. Give an inch to a politician, he will take a mile. We know how even at the height of DK movement to banish Hindi, no Hindi Prachara Sabha was attacked. Why? At the all India-level job opportunities are better with knowledge of Hindi. Savvy?

Ramachandra Guha

According to Ramachandra Guha, as reported in The Hindu, the factors for the kind of Jingoism practised by RSS or BJP or saffron brigade are (1) unpatriotic left because of its ideology (2) the corruption and dynastic rule of the Congress. (3) Rise of Islamic fundamentalism (which is seen among the Muslim minorities in India).

It could be so, but who is to counsel those who are the cause for the birth of Jingoism? Ramachandra Guha then talks of Constitutional patriotism to counter Jingoism. Does he not remember the Shah Banu Case where Constitution itself was amended. Did it help generate the 'Constitutional patriotism' among our minorities or of those political parties who supported the amendment?

Now, without much ado, let me reproduce here Art Buchwald, the American humour-journalist who wrote a parody on nationalism picking a politician's statement in America, decades ago saying: "It was a simple fact of life that the United States was a Christian nation". Now read on:

I was on a Greyhound bus going to Baltimore the other day. I came across a story in the newspaper concerning the trouble that Governor Kirk Fordice of Mississippi got into when he said in a speech that "it was a simple fact of life" that the United States was a "Christian nation." He was rebuked by the Governor of South Carolina who said that it was a Judeo-Christian country. Fordice responded that if he thought the United States was a Judeo-Christian nation he would have said so. The exchange caused panic in the Republican Party ranks and there were discussions everywhere — even on the bus.

The man next to me, who was reading over my shoulder, said, "I like to think of America as a the Shiite Muslim-Judeo-Christian country,"

"That sounds reasonable," I told him. Just then an Oriental passenger sitting behind me tapped me on the shoulder and said, "I prefer to describe the United States as a, Buddhist-Shiite Muslim-Judeo-Christian nation."

A woman wearing a beautiful sari added, "That's easy for you to say, but has it ever occurred to you that everything that is wonderful about our lives comes from the Hindu culture? You cannot leave us out."

I certainly won't. How about this: "What makes us the greatest people on the face of the earth is that we are a Hindu-Buddhist-Shiite Muslim Judeo-Christian country?"

A man in the back row came forward, "I'm from West Virginia and the US would be another Albania if it was not for the Fundamentalist snake-worshippers."

"If you're going to include snake-worshipping, you have to add devil-worshipping." The man who spoke these words had fangs protruding from his gums and had built a fire in the aisle of the bus.

The discussion was getting out of hand, so I said, "I know that this country prides itself on accepting all kinds of religions, but you cannot include everyone when you describe our religious Culture. It's true that no matter where you go in America you'll find a group of people who worship their own God but that doesn't mean you include every religion at a Governors' conference."

"You're just saying that to eliminate the Holy Rollers," another passenger added as he sprinkled water on the bus driver. "The country would never have lasted this long if our sect hadn't led the way."

I was losing control of the bus. "Perhaps," I suggested, "we could assign a different religion to the nation every week. That way nobody would be offended." A Japanese man across the aisle opened his suitcase and took out a Samurai sword which he held to my throat.

"Will you include Shinto as a national U..religion'?"

"I was just about to mention it," I assured him. I felt that I had all the bases covered when another person got on the bus. He was asked what kind of nation he thought we were and he replied, "An agnostic nation."

I added that to the list.

It was fascinating to have so many varied opinions on what kind of country the United States really is — on one bus. But we all agreed that Governor Fordice doesn't know what he's talking about — and each of us in our own way prayed for his soul."

After many decades of Art Buchwald writing this, don't we hear about US being a 'Christian nation" that belongs to the White majority but does not exclude others? This is what the RSS Chief said recently.

Rowdy-sheeter ends life: In the second incident, Girish Kumar alias Chetty Giri ended his life by hanging himself to a ceiling fan at his house at Basaveshwara Road in Agrahara. The Police said that Girish, a rowdy-sheeter at K.R. Police Station, was booked in five cases including a group clash. However, the reason for Girish taking the extreme step is yet to be ascertained.

Housewife kills child, hangs self

In a heart-rending incident reported from Sangashetthalli at Hunsur-Periyapatna border a school teacher killed her one-year-old son before hanging herself to a ceiling fan at her house.

Police and family members said that 27-year-old Mahalakshmi alias Kusuma alias Kushi took the extreme step unable to bear the harassment from her husband Prashanth. Mahalakshmi, the daughter of Venkatesh of Muduganoor Village near Hunsur, was given in a marriage to Prashanth, son of Jayakrishnegowda.

Mahalakshmi was working as a teacher at Koluvige Village Girijana Ashrama School and she was working on a contract basis.

She went missing from her house three days back and accordingly, her husband had lodged a Police complaint. After a search, she was traced in Mysuru and the Police and her husband had convinced her to come back to the house.

Today morning, she served tea to her husband and after he went to his fields, she killed her one-year-old son Prathwik Gowda alias Pinky by hanging the child to a wooden pillar of the house. She later hung herself to the ceiling fan.

The incident came to light when Prashanth came back from the fields.

He immediately alerted the Hunsur Rural Police and told the officers that his wife was suffering from severe tooth ache and she had killed the child and ended her life.

Mahalakshmi's brother, Prithvi Gowda, however, has lodged a Police complaint that his sister was routinely harassed for her salary and this had forced her to take the extreme step.

Heads of high schools get tips to improve SSLC results

Mysuru, Nov.9 (PM&DM)- A day-long workshop on improving SSLC results, jointly organised by the District Administration, ZP, Department of Public Instruction and Rashtriya Madhyamika Shikshana Abhiyana at Sarada Vilas Centenary Hall in Krishnamurthypuram, began this morning.

More than 660 Head Masters /Head Mistress of Government, aided and unaided schools across the district are taking part in this workshop.

District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, who spoke after releasing a book titled 'Action Plan for 200 Days,' said that the previous DDPI Dr. B.K.S. Vardhan was responsible for bringing out the book, which lucidly explains the action plans for improving SSLC results (2017-18). Pointing out that the main objectives of the workshop is to bring Mysuru to the top in SSLC results, Dr. Mahadevappa said teachers play a key role in this initiative.

Calling upon the teachers to identify children whose academic learning is poor and make efforts improve their learning skills, the Minister said that Mysuru is known for great achievers and academic excellence and in the backdrop, all those involved should strive for bringing Mysuru to top position in SSLC exam.

Expressing disappointment over the district getting 21st place in 2016-17 SSLC results, he said that Matric education is the foundation stone for everyone in their future academic pursuit.

He further said that five resource persons will be appointed for every taluk of the district and they will visit schools to identify poor learners and appropriately advise the teachers on improving their learning ability.

The Minister sought the co-operation of heads of schools and all others involved in bringing Mysuru to the top in SSLC this year.

ZP CEO P. Shivashankar, in his address, said that the district's SSLC pass percentage went down considerably last year and this was not a good development.

Calling upon the teachers to carefully analyse the past results, he suggested them to adopt smart classes techniques for most effective results.

Citing the enormous success of a Government School in Udupi district, he said that all those involved should give their best for improving the results as only 118 days are left for the SSLC exam to begin.

Mysuru, Nov.9 (SPN&DM)- Demanding immediate implementation of Supreme Court order on SC/ST job promotion, AHIMSA (Kannada acronym for Minorities, Backward Classes and General Category) Vedike will take out a massive demonstration in Bengaluru tomorrow (Nov.10).

Speaking to SOM, the vedike Secretary K. Govindaiah said that the Supreme Court has struck down the consequential seniority in job promotion for SC/ST communities.

The Supreme Court's Feb.9, 2017 order has brought relief to 82 percent of Government employees who are awaiting promotion for long. But the State Government is hesitant to implement the Supreme Court order, he said.

The rally which commences from Freedom Park at 10am, will culminate at Tripuravasini Gate of Palace Ground, where the demonstration will be held, he said.

Govindaiah said that thousands of employees from Mysuru, Mandya, Chamarajanagar, Hassan, Kodagu and all other districts from the State are expected to take part in the demonstration.

Vatal Nagaraj stages protest

Mysuru, Nov.9(RKB&DM)- Seeking to draw the attention of the Government towards the burning issues haunting the State such as Mahadayi, Kalasa Banduri, Cauvery rows, implementation of Mahajan Report etc., former MLA and Kannada Chaluvali leader Vatal Nagaraj staged a demonstration at the city Railway Station Circle (Dr. Babu Jagjivan Ram Circle) here this morning.

Alleging that the State MPs have no concern for Karnataka, Vatal denounced the Government's plan to alter the design of the State Flag. Maintaining that the red and yellow colour flag was representative of 6 crore Kannadigas, he warned of severe protest if the Government went ahead with the move.

Hailing Tipu Sultan as a great ruler who took on the British, he said that he has been advising the Government for years to celebrate Tipu Jayanti. But the Government has woken up now and celebrating the Jayanti, he maintained.

Claiming that the preparations for Akhila Bharatha Kannada Sahitya Sammelana was going on at a slow pace, he alleged that the Kannada Sahitya Parishat will be active for only one month a year and rests for the remaining 11 months.

Mysuru all set to host mega Kannada Meet from Nov. 24

Mysuru, Nov. 9 (BCT)- The 83rd Akhila Bharatha Kannada Sahitya Sammelana, scheduled to be held from Nov. 24 to 26 is the first one to be held in the 21st century in Mysuru. It is being held after a gap of 27 years and noted writer Prof. Chandrashekhara Patil, known widely as Champa, will be the President of the Sammelana.

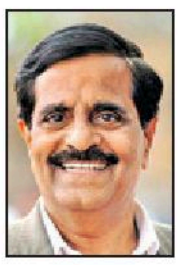
Patil is the foremost voices of the "Bandaya" Movement. He had also served as Chairman of Kannada Development Authority. He had returned the State government's highest literary honour Pampa Award protesting against the killing of scholar Prof. M.M. Kalburgi two years ago.

The heritage city is gearing up for the mega event and the main auditorium for hosting the three-day literary fest is being built using German technology and it can accommodate 25,000 people. Kannada Sahitya Parishat President Manu Baligar said yesterday that the German technology had been used to ensure that rain won't play spoilsport at the meet.



The Sahitya Sammelana will kick-start with a procession from Kote Anjaneyaswamy temple where 5,000 students, Police Band and people from all sections of society will take part. "Chief Minister Siddharamaiah will inaugurate the event at the main Rashtrakavi Kuvempu Stage that will be set up at the Maharaja's College Grounds. Special invitations have been extended to all literary personalities," Baligar said.

"Steps are being taken to provide them residential and travel arrangements," he said. There will be 550 book stalls, 100 small stalls and 50 exhibition stalls where painters can display their works. Food will be served to over 2 lakh participants at 180 counters. In each counter, over 35,000 people can relish the delicacies. Steps will be taken to ensure that no participant is inconvenienced due to VIP movements, he added.

Apart from other exhibitions, an exclusive art expo will be held where over 20 art counters will be opened for artists to display their works. "The highlight of the Sammelana will be a Sarot procession where the Sammelana President will be brought in a procession.

The Sahitya Sammelana will be held at six different stages that will be set up at the Central Business District. Among the stages that will be set up include Rajarishi Nalwadi Krishnaraja Mahamantapa and in that, the main stage will be Rashtrakavi Kuvempu at Maharaja's College Grounds, Nadoja Dr. D. Javaregowda Stage at Maharaja's College Centenary Hall and Nanjangud Thirumalamba Mahamantapa at Kalamandira.

He called upon the Organising Committee and its Sub-Committees to collectively work to make the Sammelana a great success. "Various Sub-Committees have been formed for specific purposes and each one of them should concentrate on their work, but in coordination with the higher-ups as well as other Sub-Committees. The Sub-Committees that are entrusted with the arrangements for food and accommodation have more responsibilities. We need to ensure that nobody would face any problem during the three-day Sammelana," Manu Baligar said.

From the pages of history...

Mysuru will play host to the mega event for the fifth time. The city has already hosted four Akhila Bharatha Kannada Sahitya Sammelanas — 1917, 1930, 1955 and 1990 — and also the first Vishwa Kannada Sammelana in 1986.

The 102-year-old Kannada Sahitya Parishat, founded by the then king of Mysore State, Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar, has so far organised 82 Akhila Bharatha Sahitya Sammelanas. It has been skipped during 19 years, due to various reasons, while it was held twice during two years — 1981 (Chikkamagaluru and Madikeri) and 1990 (Hubballi and Mysuru).

The undivided Belagavi district has the credit of hosting the meet for the highest eight times. Even the bifurcated Bagalkot district has hosted the event thrice — Jamakhandi, Mudhol and Rabakavi. The mega event is held five times in Dharwad (twice in Gadag including once after becoming district headquarters), Hassan, Raichur (Koppal and Gangavati before division) and Dakshina Kannada (Manipal and Udupi before bifurcation).

After the November event, Mysuru would join the toppers' club. However, Mysuru will be closely followed by Bengaluru (once in Kanakapura, now in trifurcated Ramanagaram district), Ballari and Chitradurga (twice in Davanagere and once in Harapanahalli before division).

Tumakuru (once in Siddaganga), Mandya (in 1974 and 1994), Chikkamagaluru (after a long gap of 1921 to 1981) and Kolar [also after a long gap from 1924 to 1984 (in Kaivara before division)] have hosted the event twice. While the first two Sammelanas were held in Bengaluru, Mandya took almost 59 years to host the event in 1974.

The Sammelana has also been held outside Karnataka — Kasaragod in Kerala in 1948, Solapur in Maharashtra in 1950, Mumbai, again in Maharashtra in 1951, and in New Delhi in 1978. The Delhi event was the 50th Sammelana. Haveri, Chamarajanagar, Bengaluru Rural and Yadgir are yet to open the account.

H.V. Nanjundaiah, a scholar and the first Vice-Chancellor of the University of Mysore, was the President of the first three Sammelanas and he himself inaugurated the meet. But since independence, Chief Ministers have been inaugurating the meets though eminent writers and scholars have been the Presidents. The events were earlier funded by the Wadiyar kings of Mysuru and later taken over by the State government.

All the four Presidents of the earlier meets held in Mysuru were stalwarts in their own way — 1917 H. V. Nanjundaiah, 1930 Aluru Venkata Rao, 1955 Shivaram Karanth and 1990 K.S. Narasimhaswamy.

Former Vice-Chancellor Dr. K. Chidananda Gowda, son-in-law of Kuvempu, the present occupant of Udayaravi, also called 'Kuvempu Mane' in V.V. Puram in city, said that the visitors can see the Vaagdevi idol and citation of the Jnanpith award and, also, trophies and citations of other awards that were bestowed upon Kuvempu.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Dr. Chidananda Gowda said that last week, Deputy Director of Tourism Department, Mysuru, H.P. Janardhan had visited him and had requested him to allow visitors to see Kuvempu's house. "We told him to communicate us the time so that arrangements could be made for the visitors to see the landmark house as we too will be busy in attending the three-day mega event," he said.

A half-day literary tour has been organised by the Tourism Development Corporation in association with Mysuru Travels Association. The visitors to the Sammelana can avail it from Nov. 24 from the Maharaja's College Grounds, the main venue of the Sammelana. Open jeeps will be operated from 10 am to 1 pm till Nov. 27 to ferry the visitors on the tour.

Narayan at No. D-14, Yadavagiri that has been developed into a museum at a cost of Rs. 30 lakh on the lines of the memorial of Shakespeare at Stratford-upon-Avon; Kuvempu Institute of Kannada Studies atManasagangothricampus,besides Kuvempu's house Udayaravi.

Leopard pug marks found in Zoo

- Pug marks lead to main road junction towards Chamundi Hill; Wild cat suspected to have moved to Chamundi Hill
- Two cages placed; 8 additional CCTV cameras installed

Mysuru, Nov. 9 (KS)- The staff of Sri Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens (Mysuru Zoo) have found the pug marks of a Leopard inside the Zoo premises which has given rise to suspicion that another wild cat may have strayed into the Zoo.

Recently, a leopard had strayed into the Zoo and had perched itself on a tree within the enclosure of Lion-Tailed Macaque. The Zoo authorities, after tracing the leopard, tranquillised it and released into the forest.

Meanwhile, Zoo Executive Director C. Ravishankar, speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, said that the pug marks were found inside the Zoo premises on Tuesday midnight and as precautionary measures two cages have been placed to trap the wild cat.

He further said that night patrolling has been intensified with 25 Zoo staff patrolling the Zoo and added that eight additional CCTV Cameras have been installed at vantage points to capture the wild cat if it is inside the Zoo.

This apart, additional combing operations are being conducted from 6 am to 8.30 am and only when it is confirmed that no wild animal is around, visitors and tourists are allowed inside, he said.

Stating that the leopard had moved towards Chamundi Hill, the Executive Director said that the pug marks led them towards the main road junction on Chamundi Hill Road and could not be traced further as pug marks could not be found on the roads and suspected that the leopard might have gone towards Chamundi Hill.

He urged the tourists and visitors not to panic as all precautionary measures have been taken to protect the tourists and visitors.

Wellness for a Cause

Lions West to host two-day fund-raiser event to aid subsidised dialysis for the poor and needy

By Sujata Rajpal

Joy through Service, states the tagline of Lions Club of Mysore West (LCMW). True to its motto, the city's premier service organisation has been spreading joy through its service activities since 1981 when forty like-minded individuals came forward to form an organisation called Lions Club of Mysore West. They were leading Entrepreneurs, senior Corporates, Doctors, Lawyers and other professionals, who were driven by the passion to bring a change and do something meaningful for the society.

Apart from other service activities, it runs a CBSE School. Situated in Gokulam, every brick, every block of the Lions Sevanikethan School was built from funds generated from public.

In 2008, a Kidney Endowment Fund was established in conjunction with Mission Hospital, Mysuru, to help the poor renal failure patients through subsidised dialysis. So far, more than 10,000 dialysis have been organised through this programme.

Asha Kirana, the AIDS hospital situated at Hebbal, was initially started as a project of this prestigious Club before it became a full-fledged hospital for AIDS care and protection. The international organisation, which has lived up to its mission of 'We Serve,' also organises health camps in the slums and provides financial assistance to the underprivileged students.

Until last year, the funds for the organisation's various service projects were chiefly raised by its annual cracker sale during Diwali. But as the chorus for environment protection grew louder and clearer, the Club decided to discontinue the cracker sale and initiated an alternative fund-raiser called Wellness & Health.

Encouraged by its overwhelming response, the organisation has now made the wellness event as its annual fund-raiser. About 3,000 people participated in the two-day inaugural event last year which helped the Club to generate Rs. 5 lakh for its kidney endowment fund thus making it possible for the organisation to provide dialysis facilities to a large number of patients.

The second edition of Wellness & Health will be held on Nov. 11, 12 in Mysuru. Aimed at creating awareness about the importance of mind, body and soul, the two-day mega event will have Walkathon, Yogathon, yoga workshops, free Medical and eye check-up camps.

Besides the wellness sessions, a musical nite will be conducted at MMC&RI Platinum Jubilee Hall in J.K. Grounds.

The wellness market and garage sale are the other highlights of the event. To be held at Sevanikethan School in Gokulum, the proceeds generated from the event will be directed towards the Kidney endowment fund, a flagship service project of the organisation.

Market and Medical Check-up Camp will be inaugurated by Mysore-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha on Nov. 11 at 9.30 am and Walk/Run will be flagged off by MLA Vasu on 12th morning at 6.30 am. The Cycle Treasure Hunt will be flagged off by City Police Commissioner Dr. A. Subrahmanyeswara Rao. Around 4,000 people are expected to participate in this event.

"We are targeting at raising about rupees six lakhs from this event. I am sure like the previous year, this year too Mysuru public will come forward to participate for this cause. Apart from generating funds for our service projects, the event is aimed at creating awareness about wellness and health of body, mind and soul which is the essence of human life," says, Jacob Paul, President, Lions Club of Mysore West.

Sculptors' Camp organised at University of Mysore

Chief guest Vijay Rao is seen sculpting a stone during the inauguration of the Sculptors' Camp at the Department of Studies in Ancient History and Archaeology, Manasagangothri, Mysuru, as others look on.

Mysuru, Nov.9 (SV)- A Sculptors' camp has been organised by Lalit Kala Akademi, National Academy of Art, New Delhi, in collaboration with the University of Mysore from Nov. 8 to 23 at the Department of Studies (DoS) in Ancient History and Archaeology, Manasagangothri, Mysuru.

The theme for the camp is 'Ancient Indian Sculptural Art.'

The camp was inaugurated by Dr. Gavisiddaiah, Director, Department of Archaeology, Museums and Heritage, Mysuru, in the presence of Vijay Rao, Head, Department of Art History, Chamarajendra Government College of Visual Arts (CAVA), Puttaswamy Gudigar, Director, Shilpa Loka, Goa and Dr. K. Prabhu, Chairman, DoS in Ancient History and Archaeology, Manasagangothri. M.V. Krishnappa, retd. Professor, DoS in Ancient History and Archaeology, Manasagangothri, presided.

Dr. Gavisiddaiah, in his inaugural address, highlighted the importance of selecting a stone for making sculptures. He said, "Emotions are a key part in making sculptures; one must express them through their sculptures."

Vijay Rao spoke about the aesthetic experience in making a sculpture. He was of the opinion that skill and imagination is very vital.

He said, "One must give a form to the imagination that they have conceived in their mind, and that imagination should turn into an image which should be sculpted on the stone. According to him, 'Sankalpa, Prathishta and Arohana' is important to feel the power to turn a stone into a Vigraha (idol).

He also gave an insight on how several artists have dared to break the classical ideas and evolved 'Modern Art'. "Sculptures elevate our souls to heaven and they also bring heaven down to earth," he added.

Ten sculptors from Goa and Karnataka will create sculptures in ancient dynastic styles (Kadamba, Hoysala, Chalukya, etc.) in the next three weeks under the supervision of Puttaswamy Gudigar. The event will also be open for schoolchildren, college students, art connoisseurs and public as it would be an opportunity for them to observe the creation of sculpture from start to finish and appreciate the nuances of sculpting an image in the traditional style.

By the end of the camp, the sculptors aim to create as many as ten beautiful sculptures.

C.S. Krishna Shetty, Administrator, Lalit Kala Academi, New Delhi, Dr. V. Shobha, Chairperson, DoS in Ancient History and Archaeology, Manasagangothri and Dr. Rohitha Eswer, Department of Ancient History and Archaeology, Maharaja's College, Mysuru, were also present.

V. N. Prasad

Later, Shabbir was invited to sing at Mumbai on the 28th July in commemoration of Rafi's 37th death anniversary. Recently at a cultural activities bonanza of the JSS Educational Institutes namely, Medical, Dental, Pharma, Engineering, Law and Commerce, Prasad was invited to be the principal judge of singing competition of the students where he identified young emerging talents in Rakshita and Ankita. They are being projected at the programme on Nov.11.

Young Ashwin, Shreya and Hamsini have already won the hearts of Mysureans. Jayanthi is a playback singer having cut a few albums — has a silken voice texture. She is an officer in the SBI.

The ensemble includes melodious hits of the films like Howrah Bridge, Phir Wohi Dil Laya Hoon, Umrao Jaan, Parasmani, Suraj, Andhi, Aap Ki Kasam, Kalakar, Dil To Pagal Hai, Ashiqui, DDLJ, 1942: A Love Story, etc.

WORD OF THE DAY

Mandarin

Pronunciation: MAN-drin
Meaning: Mandarin is a group of related varieties of Chinese spoken across most of northern and southwestern China.
Examples: "I don't think there's anything about the novel that doesn't impress me: its stream of satirical invention...; its mandarin prose that perfectly conjures the trancelike drift of a modern consciousness overwhelmed by detail; and its breathtaking risks with structure...." — Alan Moore, quoted in The International New York Times, 10 Sept. 2016
"The good doctor's prose is measured and self-assured, replete with allusions to classical texts. Here is a wonderfully lively, promiscuous mind, unashamed of its erudition. The voice attains a richly spun, mandarin quality; the text comes to have the feeling of so much silk." — Rafael Campo, The Washington Post, 22 Nov. 1998
Origin: The Portuguese were the first to refer to a Chinese official as a "mandarin." The word hails from the Portuguese word mandarim, which developed, by way of Malay mĕntĕri, from Sanskrit mantrin, meaning "counselor." Mandarins were promoted by successfully completing the imperial Chinese examination system, which was primarily based on the teachings of Confucian texts. In time, mandarin became a word for a pedantic official, a bureaucrat, or a person of position and influence. The noun passed into the English language in the late 16th century, and the adjective appeared in the early 17th.

THE ODD WORD

Schadenfreude
A malicious satisfaction in the misfortunes of others.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Slush fund

Meaning: Money put aside to be used to bribe or influence, especially in a political context.

Origin: The word 'slush' was coined in 17th century England as the name for half-melted snow and is first referred to in print with that meaning in Henry Best's Rural Economy in Yorkshire, 1641. Of course, that's where the name Slushies, the part-frozen flavoured drinks, came from. A century later, there was an alternative meaning of 'slush', or 'slosh', which was the fat or grease obtained from meat boiled on board ship. That invaluable guide The Gentleman's Magazine, 1756, referred to it like this: He used much slush (the rancid fat of pork) among his victuals. William Thompson made it sound even less appetising in The Royal Navy-men's Advocate, 1757: Tars whose Stomachs are not very squeamish, can bear to paddle their Fingers in stinking Slush.
